2 BIG BATTLES IN POLAND; ANOTHER IN EAST PRUSSIA

FIGHTING BETWEEN WARTA AND VISTULA OF IMPORTANCE

WEATHER CONDITIONS AND SITUATION OF FIELD FAVOR BATTLE, DECISIVE TO DEGREE UNEQUALLED ON ANY OTHER BATTLEFIELD OF THE WAR—BULGARIA AND ITALY AFFECTED BY AUSTRIAN ADVANCE.

London, Nov. 20.—Two big battles, either or both of which may have decisive results are being fought in Poland and a third conflict of almost equal importance is progressing in East Prussia. Of the three battles that which is now at its height between the Vistula and Warta rivers and in which the Russians tonight claim partial success is exciting the greatest interest. The Germans it is believed have brought up by their line of strategic railways in Posen and Sillesia at least half a million men in an endeavor to break the Russian line. The location of the battlefield and other conditions favor a decisive conflict. In this battle the Russians claim to have achieved partial success. The second battle in Poland is being fought on the Cracow-Czestochowa line and both sides claim they are satisfied with the progress being made. The Russian advance in east Prussia is moving slowly through the region about the Mazurian lakes, a country which is difficult of passage. In this district the Germans have massed strong forces to dispute the Russian advance. The Russians are moving westward in Galicia and claim numerous successes among which are the capture of Wisnitz, Gorlice, Dukla and Ujok. The only serious fighting taking place on the allies left wing in the western battle ground appears to be south of Ypres, where an artillery duel of considerable violence is progressing. In the Argonne region the Germans have made some vigorous attacks which according to the French, have been repulsed.

The other battle in Poland is taking place on the Cracow-Czestochowa front and both the Russians and the Germans claim it is proceeding satisfactorily for them. In East Prussia the Russian advance is moving slowly through the country surrounding the Mazurian Lakes which is difficult of passage. In Galicia the Russians are moving steadily westward and at the same time are seizing the passes of the Carpathians.

Absence of Infantry Attacks.

There is almost a complete absence of infantry attacks in the western arena and the artillery fighting is of much less violence. All that region about Dixmude through which the Yser canal passes is inundated and the only serious fighting appears to be taking place to the south of Ypres, where cannonading of considerable intensity is in progress. Very bad weather which necessarily hampers operations has been experienced and has fallen in some places.

There has been no important action in the French center but in the Argonne region the Germans have made vigorous attacks which the French say, were repulsed.

On the French right wing the Germans have retaken the village of Chauvencourt part of which they blew up a few days ago.

The activity of the Germans in the vicinity of Rheims has slackened.

Bulgaria Becoming Uneasy. The advance by Austria into Servia is creating uneasiness in Bulgaria as to the future of the Balkan states. The question as to whether Bulgaria should remain neutral or throw in her lot with the allies was discussed today in the Sobranje. Leaders of the Democratic party suggested that allies should be consulted as to their intentions regarding the future of the Balkans.

Italy Also Affected. Italy too has been affected by the Austrian advance and her ambassadors at the European capitals have been called home to confer with the cabinet. Marquis Imperial Italian ambassador to Great Britain will leave for Rome tomorrow. In order to prevent supplies of tea reaching Germany from England through neutral countries, Great Britain has prohibited its exportation to European countries except those of the allies, Spain and Portugal. Since the outbreak of the war the exports of tea to Holland have reached enormous proportions.

Extension of Mine Field. The admiralty has taken further steps for the protection of the east coast ports by the extension of the mine field. This seems to give some support to the rumors prevalent for several days that a German raid on the east coast is expected. In fact it is generally believed here that if Germany is balked in her other designs she will attempt to attack England no matter how desperate such an expedition is considered.

Subscriptions to the war loan continue to come in and it was reported unofficially tonight that the applications aggregated between three and three and one half billion dollars. The loan calls for only $1,750,000,000.

GRANGE ADOPTS MANY RESOLUTIONS

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 20.—The National Grange went on record at the closing session of its forty-eighth annual convention today as favoring farm credit legislation, a government-owned merchant marine, government ownership of the telephone and telegraph systems and pure food legislation. Other resolutions adopted at the final meeting opposed ship subsidies and would make it a criminal offense for money to be expended unlawfully for the election of a United States senator. A resolution opposing the opening of the Panama-Pacific exposition on Sundays was laid on the table.

POPE BENEDICT IS SIXTY TODAY

Rome, Nov. 20.—Although Pope Benedict expressed a desire that there should be no festivities or manifestations on the occasion of his sixtieth birthday tomorrow because of the war, many telegrams and addresses of greeting have been received from throughout the world.

The receiver so far has collected about $500,000 but has paid out about $400,000. Most of these expenditures were to redeem high grade securities hypothecated within sixty days of the failure.

DISEASE AT PEORIA.

Peoria, Ills., Nov. 20.—State and federal livestock inspectors late today found traces of the foot and mouth disease in a herd of 6,000 cattle belonging to the Edward Morris company of Chicago, which are being fattened at the Great Western Distillery here and arrangements were immediately made to ship those cattle free from disease to the Chicago stock yards. The first shipment of 96 cars went out tonight and the balance will be shipped as quickly as they can be loaded into cars. Benedict peace soon may be realized.

War News Summarized

TELEGRAMS FROM MEXICO SERVE TO SUMMARIZE NEWS

REVEAL SITUATION MORE CONFUSED THAN EVER

GUTIERREZ WILL CONTINUE VILLA IN COMMAND OF TROOPS CONTROLLED BY CONVENTION—OREGON FORMAL LY DECLARES WAR ON GENERAL VILLA.

BULLETIN.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Nov. 20.—An unconfirmed report has reached here that General Lucio Blanco, of the constitutionalist forces, by a coup d'état has made himself executive head in Mexico City by imprisoning General Obregon.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Official advice from its agents throughout Mexico today revealed the situation as more confused than it has been in many months. The official telegrams summarized events as follows:

General Gutierrez, selected president by the convention at Aguas Calientes, has decided to continue General Francisco Villa in command of all the troops controlled by the convention. Villa has advanced to Irapuato without resistance and American consular agents say he will continue to Queretaro and the vicinity of Mexico City without difficulty.

General Obregon, in the Mexican capital, loyal to Carranza, has formally declared war on General Villa. Unrest and apprehension prevail in Mexico City as the Carranza troops have been evacuating the city all day. The purpose of the move is unexplained.

General Obregon will leave the Mexican capital Saturday. One message said he was going to Salina Cruz, from which point on the west coast it was thought he would move north to Guadalajara and attempt to get into the rear of the Villa forces. Another telegram spoke of his probable departure for Vera Cruz, where it is supposed he will join General Carranza next Monday formally to take possession of the city when the American forces under General Funston depart.

All the public offices in Mexico City have been vacated and the American agents there do not know whether it is the purpose of the Carranza-Obregon faction to leave the place undefended or whether a small garrison will be kept there while General Pablo Gonzales and other Carranza forces move north to meet the advance of the Villa columns.

Railroad communication north of Mexico City is interrupted and a band of men, either Zapatistas or ex-federal, have cut the line from Mexico City to Vera Cruz at San Marcos. There are rumors at Villa's headquarters according to one consular despatch that Puebla has been occupied by the Zapata forces but no confirmation is available.

Situation Becomes More Involved.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 20.—The Mexican situation became today more involved. The Villa troops flushed by the reported occupation of Queretaro, dominant position in Central Mexico, and by a report that General Obregon was preparing to evacuate Mexico City, asserted their belief that victory had been accomplished by the convention forces.

Villa's agents tonight declared that three strong columns of the division of the north, which, they asserted, aggregated 60,000 men, were moving, headed with Villa at their head, toward Mexico City; another from Irapuato under General Raoul Madero toward Guadalajara and the third headed by General Martiniano Servin from San Luis Potosi toward Tampico, the east coast port still held by the Carranza forces.

Not Likely to Resume Traffic.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 20.—There appears no likelihood of an early resumption of traffic between Vera Cruz and Mexico City. So far as known here the Mexican railway has been cut, but a considerable stretch of the inter-oceanic line has been destroyed. Local trains from intermediate points arrived here tonight filled with refugees.

Much excitement was caused here today by the circulation of a handbill which said that since Gen. Francisco Villa's men proposed to prevent the occupation of the city the day the Americans leave, it was earnestly hoped that non-combatants keep off the streets. It was added that this inconvenience probably would not last more than 24 hours, as it was expected in that time the constitutionalists would be able to secure reinforcements to make certain their tenure of the port.

TESTIMONY OF BIG LOAN FEATURES SIEGEL TRIAL

Former Secretary Tells How Banker Obtained $100,000 Loan from National Bank of Commerce of New York.

Genesee, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Testimony as to how Henry Siegel, the New York merchant obtained a loan of $100,000 from the National Bank of Commerce of New York featured the Siegel trial today.

Oscar A. Prall, former confidential secretary to Siegel, declared that his employer obtained the money on the renewal of four notes.

He said that he had arranged for the renewal of the notes four months before they fell due.

Attorneys for Siegel declare that if the money was obtained on renewed notes the charge of larceny against their client will not stand.

It has been the contention of the prosecution that the notes were originals and that Siegel misrepresented the condition of some of his stores, including the one in Fourteenth street in order to obtain the money.

"The renewals have been arranged," Prall testified, the discount clerk at the bank told him when he called for the new notes. John S. Alexander, president of the bank, testified briefly. His testimony corroborated evidence given by officials of the bank.

Asked directly if he would have made the loan if he had known the Siegel stores were losing money he replied negatively.

MURDERED WOMAN'S HAND-BAG TURNED OVER TO AURORA POLICE

Sleeping Car Porter Said to Have Found Bag Near Scene of the Crime.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—A handbag carried by Miss Jennie Miller, of Aurora, Ill., when she was murdered in that city last Wednesday night, was identified here today and turned over to Frank Michels, chief of police of Aurora. The receptacle contained three pennies and four of Miss Miller's calling cards.

Michels said that he expected to make an important arrest in the case at Aurora tonight. A sleeping car porter, resident in Aurora, is said to have found the bag yesterday morning near the scene of the crime. He brought it to Chicago when he came in to make his run on the Illinois Central from Chicago to New Orleans. The train had not passed the city limits when the porter turned the bag over to the conductor. The latter at Memphis, Tenn., sent it back to the headquarters of the road here and it was promptly placed in the hands of the local police.

The defendant was prominent in Aurora as daughter of a former mayor. The handbag is supposed to have contained $80 at the time of the murder.

Search for "Schobies".

Aurora, Ills., Nov. 20.—In their search for the murderer of Mrs. Jennie Miller, daughter of a former mayor, who was attacked with a pipe wrench Wednesday night and received injuries from which she died, the police tonight were attempting to trail a tall slender man answering the description of a loiterer seen at the place of the assault. He registered at an apartment house as J. E. Schobies and gave St. Louis, Mo., and Plainfield, Ills., as his address. On the night Miss Miller was struck down the man "Schobies" did not sleep in his room and has not been seen since. The handbag carried by Miss Miller was on the tracks of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad immediately behind the rooming house.

The bag which contained Miss Miller's cards and a few trinkets, was found by a porter on his way to work. He turned it over to the conductor of his train who upon his arrival at Memphis, sent it to the Chicago police.

MURPHY HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH AFFAIRS OF CUB CLUB

President Tener Declares Taft to Be Owner of Chicago Team—Does Not Predict Baseball Peace.

New York, Nov. 20.—President John K. Tener of the National League today gave out a statement in which he declared that Charles Murphy had nothing to do with the affairs of the Chicago club, as far as the league was concerned.

All the public offices in Mexico City have been vacated and the American agents there do not know whether it is the purpose of the Carranza-Obregon faction to leave the place undefended or whether a small garrison will be kept there while General Pablo Gonzales and other Carranza forces move north to meet the advance of the Villa columns.

EMPEROR SENDS THANKS.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 21, 4:13 a.m.—Emperor William has written an autograph letter to Grand Duke Frederick August of Oldenburg, thanking the Grand Duke for conferring upon him the cross of the Order of Frederick Augustus. "I shall wear it in honor of the brave Oldenburgers who on every occasion have performed excellently," says the emperor in his letter.

UNITED ACTION HELPFUL.

If some uniform system of oiling could be adopted by the road commissioners the fact would be wonderfully beneficial not only to the people living in the country precincts but to the business men of Jacksonville as well.

While the hard roads to a great extent may be advantage in the Tie road law is that it cultivates and practically ne-cilitates a working together on the part of road officials to one common end. It does away somewhat with the idea that each road district is to be worked as an independent principality and that each road

commissioner's methods are better than those of officials in neighboring districts. The road officials of the county could no doubt readily come to some general understanding as to the best method of preparing

roads for oiling and the best method

for applying the oil, and such uniform agreement would be highly beneficial. There is need for both hard roads and oiled roads.

NOT A ROAD DISTRICT

Should Have Been Organized in Accordance With Tie Law Provision —Sentiment Growing for Oiling of Country Roads.

The public interest which has been focused on the good roads question because of the rivalry to secure the first work done in Morgan county under the Tie road bill, has brought to notice the fact that the city of Jacksonville is not of itself a road district, or is not a part of any other road district. In accordance with the terms of the Tie road law it was the duty of the commissioners some months since to make Jacksonville a road district by itself or to make it a part of road district No. 7, which now includes most of the territory immediately adjacent to Jacksonville. For some cause or other this matter was overlooked and it is now too late for the district to be outlined and have a road district tax levied, collectible with the taxes of 1915.

CITIES CAN IMPROVE COUNTRY ROADS.

The intent of the law is to give cities the right to collect a road tax just the same as is true in the country road districts. The authority is granted by the law for this money to be expended within the limits of the city itself or upon roads leading into the city. If the district had been constituted by the county board a fund of at least $3000 or $4000 would have been at the disposal of the city commissioners early in 1915 for road work during the coming year. Such a fund would be a distinct advantage to the city, especially if it was used for dragging, oiling, or similar work on the roads approaching Jacksonville. It is an acknowledged fact that some of the main roads leading into Jacksonville are in worse condition just a short distance before the corporate limits are reached than they are at any other point. The commissioners are understood to have had no special motive in omitting to carry out this provision of the law but simply let the matter drag from time to time until it was too late to take any definite action. Before another year comes around no doubt the organization of the city into a road district will be undertaken and completed.

OILING NOT EXPENSIVE.

In talking about this matter of good roads, as stated in the Journal not long since, there is a growing sentiment among Morgan county road commissioners and others who have some connection with the public highways in favor of oiling. Some of these men, who are not opposed by any means to hard roads, point out that the matter of constructing any great amount of hard roads is not likely to be accomplished except with the passage of a long period of years. The estimated cost of a mile of hard road in this locality is about $10,000, and because of this cost it is easy to figure that it will be a long time before any large percentage of the thousand miles or more of Morgan county roads have been converted into hard highways.

This has led to emphasis being laid upon the fact that the interest charge on a mile of hard road would be from five to six hundred dollars and that this sum would be sufficient to oil a mile of road at least three times a year. Experience has shown in Jacksonville that the streets where the surface has been oiled two or three times a year for a period of several years gives a surface almost like macadam and one which is practically impervious to water. It is necessary, however, before the oil work is done to do a certain amount of dragging and grading in order to provide the necessary drainage. It is doubtless true, too, that the average road district in Morgan county has sufficient money at its disposal each year if economically expended to provide for a vast amount of dragging and for oiling at least twice a year.

UNITED ACTION HELPFUL.

If some uniform system of oiling could be adopted by the road commissioners the fact would be wonderfully beneficial not only to the people living in the country precincts but to the business men of Jacksonville as well. While the hard roads to a great extent may be advantage in the Tie road law is that it cultivates and practically ne-

cilitates a working together on the part of road officials to one common end. It does away somewhat

with the idea that each road district is to be worked as an independent principality and that each road

commissioner's methods are better than those of officials in neighboring districts. The road officials of the county could no doubt readily come to some general understanding as to the best method of preparing

roads for oiling and the best method

for applying the oil, and such uniform agreement would be highly beneficial. There is need for both

hard roads and oiled roads.

WILL PROBE EDITOR'S DEATH.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 21.—Coroner E. M. Eckard has ordered an inquest in the death of E. F. Baldwin, editor of the Peoria Star, who died here early Thursday. Over a month ago Baldwin was attacked by Giles Keithley, a young attorney, who had been the object of merciless denunciation in Baldwin's paper. Keithley is said to have knocked Baldwin down, but for three weeks after the encounter the editor was at his desk daily.

CRUCIAL GAMES FOR FOOTBALL ELEVENS

J. H. S. PLAYS EAST ST. LOUIS HERE.

Local Lads Expect to Keep Up Their String of Victories This Afternoon
—Illinois College Goes to Peoria to Play Bradley.

Local football enthusiasts are especially interested in the two football games which will take place today, Jacksonville meeting the East St. Louis eleven here and Illinois playing Bradley Polytechnic at Peoria.

Game at Home.

The Jacksonville high school has been playing great ball this fall and have come through the season without a defeat, something that has seldom if ever happened by the J. H. S. eleven. The game with East St. Louis is a crucial one in that Jacksonville is one of the teams picked for the state title, along with the two Aurora high schools and Greenfield. Greenfield plays Springfield today and if defeated by the Capital city lads will be out of the running. Coach Buland has his men in the pink of condition and expects to put up an exhibition that will do credit to the school. The players were not injured in the Quincy game and are full of "pep". East St. Louis is the third sized city in the state and should have a wealth of material both in speed and weight for a team. Practically nothing is known of the river city eleven and the game may contain a few surprises. The game will be called at 2:30.

Bradley vs. Illinois.

Illinois also plays crucial game this afternoon in Peoria against Bradley. Coach Harmon is not taking up as strong a line up as heretofore as several regulars are not of the game, including some of the star players. He expects the men to give a good account of themselves and from dope it looks like the contest will be a close one.

Bradley has had several men out of the game but most of their star players expect to be in the contest this afternoon. "Bill" Allen, the star half back, Capt. Don Stranch and Tom Goodfellow, will be in football togs. Bradley is bent on annexing the contest at any cost, thus raising their percentage in the championship column.

Millikin is still hammering away with the idea that if they win from Charleston Normal today they have the championship. The fact is that Millikin has been defeated by Lomard 23 to 0. Wesleyan held them to a 0 to 0 score and despite the fact that Millikin beat Illinois, Illinois scored 20 points to Wesleyan's 17 and Millikin couldn't even score against Wesleyan. Again Millikin only defeated Shurtleff 17 to 0 while Illinois trimmed Shurtleff 66 to 0.

PEASANT FAMILY GATHERING AT WYATT GOLDEN WEDDING

Four Generations Present Friday at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin V. Wyatt—Have Resided in Morgan County forty years.

The fiftieth wedding anniversary of Martin Van Buren Wyatt and Phoebe Ellis Wyatt was appropriately observed Friday afternoon at the family home, 851 Goltra avenue, with a number of friends and relatives enjoying a bounteous two o'clock dinner and spending a pleasant afternoon and evening. There were present at the gathering two sons and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt, their granddaughter, Mrs. Lecie Wyatt Hutchison and their great-grandson, Ralph W. Hutchison, Jr., four generations all. Charles Wyatt of Humboldt, Kans., was not able to be present, but George M. Wyatt of Rockhouse and William Wyatt, with his wife, of White Hall, were in Jacksonville to observe their parents golden anniversary and Miss Minnie Wyatt, the only daughter, was present. Among others from away were Mrs. Wyatt's brother, Alonso Ellis, and wife, with Mrs. Fitzgerald of White Hall and Mrs. Coulter of Winchester. James Ellis, Mrs. Wyatt's other brother, who resides in Jacksonville, was also present.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt took place at the home of Mrs. Wyatt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ellis, Superb Chorus Effects, Beautiful Costuming.

The biggest of all Laugh Show Hits with Tickling Tunes—A great company and dazzling ensembles is Rowland & Clifford's latest out of ordinary production.

The story goes with a hurrah as Rudolph Plastrie, a would-be artist, who claims to have painted the celebrated Chaba picture called, "September Morn," (but who in reality cannot paint the side of a barn and do it well) continues to get himself in tight places. His aim goes with a scream. An actress claims to be the original model of the popular picture and she instructs her press agent to boost her as the real "September Morn" who was not afraid to bathe in the open or the lake or whatever it was. The dodging of Rudolph and the actress create no end of joyful lines and situations. Prices 50c to $1.50.

SPRINGFIELD MAN DIES WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS

HORACE R. BALCH EXPIRES WHEN NECK IS BROKEN.

Accident Occurs Northeast of Murrayville—Companion is Thrown Clear of Machine and Injuries are Slight—Coroner Wright Holds Inquest—Take Body to Springfield.

Horace R. Balch of Springfield, a former resident of Jacksonville, was instantly killed Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock when the automobile which he was driving overturned at a curve about five miles northeast of Murrayville. Chester B. Feeley, also of Springfield, who was riding in the car with Mr. Balch, sustained a painful bruise of his left hip, but otherwise was uninjured. The body was taken to Murrayville and later to Springfield. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Mr. Balch, who held a position as general sales agent for the Washburn-Crosby Milling Company with headquarters in Springfield, had received a letter from his firm telling him of some prospective business in Murrayville and it was for that reason that he made the trip. When Mr. Feeley returned from his trip Thursday night with the intention of going to Chicago last night to witness a football game, Mr. Balch asked him to go on the trip. Both men were employed by the same firm and Mr. Balch wanted his partner with him on the trip so that he would have some help in case any trouble was experienced with the machine.

Ate Dinner in Jacksonville. Both men left Springfield about 10:45 o'clock Friday morning and came direct to this city, via the state road, arriving here about 12:30 o'clock. They took dinner at the Peacock Inn and visited a short time with George Orear, an old schoolmate of Mr. Balch. While coming into Jacksonville they met Alden Brown and took him to his residence on West State street. Mr. Balch remarked then that he had a bad time and after looking at it Mr. Brown advised him to have it repaired. The men purchased a new casting and tube at the Ford garage here and then went to Woodson where they called on Anderson Brothers. They were there only a few minutes and proceeded to Murrayville, where they called on a number of merchants.

After finishing their business in Murrayville the men called at the Murrayville Produce company and inquired the way to Springfield. They were directed via Jacksonville and through Franklin, and chose the latter route, as it was shorter. Mr. Balch was driving the car and they went along nicely, until they came to a road with a number of long hills. Thinking that they had gotten off the road, the men turned back about three-fourths of a mile and in rounding a curve in the road the accident happened.

Mr. Feeley Tells of Accident. Last night Mr. Feeley stated he did not know just how the accident occurred or what caused it. He said they were running about 20 miles an hour, but didn't know exactly just how fast. He was thrown clear of the machine and dazed for a few minutes. When he came to his senses he looked around and seeing the overturned car with one of the front wheels spinning, began to laugh and called to Mr. Balch. Not receiving an answer he looked around, but could see nothing of his partner. He then went to the machine and found Mr. Balch pinned beneath the car. The man did not respond to a call, and finding that he could not free his partner from the machine Mr. Feeley ran to the nearest farm house. There were only two girls at the house and they telephoned for help. John Lonergan, his son and a Mr. Hicks hurried to the scene. They turned the machine on its side and pulled the man from under it. Mr. Lonergan stated then that Mr. Balch was dead, but his companion could not realize it and started to walk off as though dazed. When called back he said he did not know where he had started. One of Mr. Lonergan's daughters called Dr. R. R. Jones of Woodson, who arrived in about fifteen minutes and after an examination pronounced the man dead.

Acting on Dr. Jones' instructions Coroner (Wright) was notified and the body was taken to the residence of Mr. Lonergan. J. E. Thompson, was instructed to take the body to Murrayville and the machine, which was badly damaged, was taken to Mr. Lonergan's residence and left there. The top of the machine was wrecked, the body badly damaged and the fenders bent.

Thinks Car Got Into Rut. Mr. Feeley said last night that the road on which the accident occurred was perfectly level, and that when he looked over the car after the accident the left front tire was flat, that the only explanation he could give as to the cause of the machine turning over was that it must have gotten into a rut on the side of the road and turning out of it caused the car to roll over. He said the car was enclosed, the top and wind shield being up, at the time and could not understand how he was thrown clear of the machine.

Coroner Wright was taken to Murrayville Friday evening by J. W. Woods in his automobile and they were accompanied by J. Harry Woods and a representative of the Journal. A jury composed of Dr. J. H. Spencer, foreman; Samuel Story, William Cook, J. Harry Woods, William Lovell and J. W. Woods, clerk, held an inquest and examined two witnesses—Mr. Feeley and John Lonergan. Their testimony was substantially the same as the foregoing story. Mr. Lonergan said that the car passed him as he was on his way home and when asked as to the speed of the machine, he remarked that it was going pretty fast, "faster than I would care to ride." Just as he arrived home his wife came out of the house and told him to go back to the machine, that a man was injured there. He said that when Mr. Balch was pulled from under the car his face was down on his chest and the steering wheel was lying across the back of the dead man's neck. An examination of the body disclosed that death was caused by a broken neck and must have been instantaneous.

Takes Body to Springfield.

News of the accident was telephoned to Springfield and Reynolds Vredenberg and H. A. Liedel, both friends of the dead man, went to Murrayville on the 8 o'clock train. Dodd's undertaking establishment was also notified and their automobile ambulance was sent at once to Murrayville to convey the body to Springfield. The ambulance arrived in Jacksonville about 11:30 o'clock last night on the way to Murrayville. Mr. Vredenberg accompanied Mr. Feeley to Jacksonville and they went to Springfield via the Wabash at 9:45 o'clock last night. Mrs. Balch was notified of the accident and intended to go to Murrayville, but was later persuaded to remain in Springfield. She was not told that her husband had been killed until about 10 o'clock and was almost prostrated with grief. Mr. Liedel remained in Murrayville and accompanied the remains to Springfield in the ambulance.

Horace Balch was a son of Rev. W. S. Balch, a Methodist minister and a former resident of Jacksonville. When the family was in this city they resided at the corner of South Church street and West College avenue and the deceased graduated from Whipple Academy and started in the first year of study at Illinois College. He did not finish, however, and the family moved to Joliet, where the deceased and his brother, Charles Balch, who graduated from Illinois College with the class of 1900, secured positions in the steel mills. Later the Rev. Mr. Balch moved to Mattoon, which is still his home. Charles Balch still resides in Joliet.

Deceased Was Well Liked. Some seven years ago the deceased entered the employ of the Washburn-Crosby Milling Company, and about six months ago moved to Springfield as general sales agent for that company for this territory. He had associated with him Mr. Feeley and the two men were conducting the business of the company most successfully. Mr. Balch was 28 years of age and a young man well liked by a wide circle of friends. He possessed marked ability as a salesman and was esteemed for his upright character. Aside from the father and brother already mentioned, he is survived by a widow and two small children residing on West Grand avenue, Springfield; and a married sister. Mr. Balch had many friends in Jacksonville who will be saddened to learn of his sudden death.

Were Traveling Pretty Fast.

When news of the accident reached Jacksonville Friday evening several stories were volunteered as to the speed of the machine driven by Mr. Balch. One man said he wondered if someone had been injured when the men passed him, as they were going so fast and it is said that Alden Brown, whom Mr. Balch took home, asked the driver if he ran his machine that fast all of the time. The reply of Mr. Balch is said to be substantially that he had been "putting this machine over the road pretty much for the past three years" and did not consider the danger very great.

Mobilizing Off Coast of Lower California

British, Australian and Japanese Warships Reported off Guadalupe Islands.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 20.—That a number of British, Australian and Japanese warships are mobilizing off the coast of lower California was the word brought to this port today by Captain Robert Israel, of the kome-going launch, None Such. According to Israel two warships, the British protected Cruiser New Castle and the Japanese Armored Cruiser Idzumo, were coaled off the Guadalupe Islands last Tuesday by the Blue Funnel Liner Protostilaus and another commanded merchant vessel.

The None Such left the islands before the warships finished coaling and Israel does not know in what direction the cruisers steamed. The other warships, whose names and nationalities he could not name, were sighted by Israel on his way up the coast. Both were southbound. An unidentified foreign warship passed this port fifteen miles off shore, also southbound.

BIG SPECIAL SALE OF MILLERY NOW ON AT HERMAN'S.
SUBSCRIBING MONEY FOR AUSTRIAN LOAN.
$170,000,000 Have Been Subscribed For War Loan in Two Days.

Venice (via Paris), Nov. 20, 2:15 a.m.—The subscriptions to the Austrian war loan during the first two days aggregated 700,000,000 crowns (about $170,000,000), the announcement of Austrian victories over the Servians, it is stated, having greatly stimulated public investments. The imperial family and various organizations were the largest subscribers. Banks and industrial corporations also invested heavily.

The loss of the Austrian steamer Josephine, which was blown up by an Austrian mine off Pola, it is said, will prove a serious blow to Austria as she was one of the largest vessels engaged in alleged contraband traffic between Venice and Trieste.

Baby of Future is Considered

Much thought has been given in late years to the subject of maternity. In the cities there are maternity hospitals equipped with modern methods. But most women prefer their own homes and in the towns and villages must prefer them. And since this is true, from the great many splendid letters written on the subject that our "Mother's Friend" is a great help to expectant mothers. They write of the wonderful value of how it seemed to allow the muscles to expand without undue strain and what a splendid influence it was on the nervous system. Such help to "Mother's Friend" and the broader knowledge of them should have a helpful influence upon babies of the future. Science says that an infant derives its sense and builds its character from cutaneous impressions. And a tranquil mother can do more to transmit a more healthful influence than if she is extremely nervous from undue pain. This is what a host of women believe who used "Mother's Friend" during their period of expectancy.

These points are more thoroughly explained in a little book mailed free. "Mother's Friend" is sold in all drug stores and highly recommended for its timely usefulness, its safeness and the real help it affords. Ask for it at the store and write us for the book. Bradfords Register Co., 511 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

The effect of this splendid external application is an expression of the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

FEDERATION CONSIDERS JURISDICTIONAL DISPUTES

Secretary of Labor Wilson Address Delegates at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—With the exception of a half hour during which Secretary William B. Wilson of the federal department of labor addressed the delegates, the convention of the American Federation of Labor devoted all of today to the consideration of matters pertaining to jurisdictional disputes.

Secretary Wilson in his speech said there could be no permanent industrial peace that is not based on industrial justice and he also told the delegates that the most effective manner to promote the welfare of those who toil was the trade unions of the country. He reiterated his declaration made at the Seattle convention of the federation that every title to property is a law-created and a law protected title.

A proposition to create a board of mediation and conciliation to be composed of three members to endeavor to adjust jurisdictional differences was proposed by Vice President O'Connell and provoked a lively discussion with the result that the matter was referred to the executive council of the federation with instructions to report at the 1915 convention. The purpose of the board of mediation Mr. O'Connell said, would be to save the time of the delegates of the convention and to avoid friction and also to give the convention more opportunity to push forward the labor movement. The convention disposed of these jurisdictional matters:

Must Affiliate with Teamsters.
The organized Drivers of Bakery and Laundry Wagons were instructed to become affiliated with the International Teamsters' Union.

The proposition that the Brewery Wagon Drivers also affiliate with the teamsters' union was deferred.

The carriage, wagon and automobile workers' union was ordered to drop the word "automobile" from its title and to cease organizing those men in the automobile industry who come under the jurisdiction of machinists and other crafts.

Conferences are to be arranged within ninety days for the purpose of adjusting disputes between the Brotherhood of Carpenters and the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen; Brotherhood of Painters and the Railway Carmen; Brotherhood of Slate Workers and kindred crafts; Structural Iron Workers and trades connected with their work.

MAY CONCLUDE WASHINGTON / NEGOTIATIONS NEXT WEEK

Expect Answers to American Suggestions Today or Monday.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Negotiations between Sir George Paish representing the British government and the federal reserve board and American bankers probably will come to a conclusion here next week. Officials familiar with the progress of the conferences are confident that an answer to the American suggestions cabled to London by Sir George will be received either tomorrow or Monday and while they have had no definite assurances on the subject they are hopeful the reply will be favorable.

No great surprise is felt here at the delay in getting such an answer officials point to recent events in England for reason in believing no more speed could be expected. The principal point in question is whether the Bank of England will grant a credit of $100,000,000 to take care of American securities which may be offered for sale when the London Stock Exchange re-opens. This fund might not be used if the balance of trade is sufficient to take up American indebtedness but American bankers are said to feel that its creation would have a distinct sensational value even if no large quantities of American stocks are sold in London.

Sir George called informally at the treasury department tonight and talked with Secretary McAdoo and Governor Hamlin of the federal reserve board.

"I had hoped to receive a reply today," said Sir George later, "but it has been a thick week in England with Lord Roberts death and the loan and everything."

"Have you been recalled?" he was asked.

"If I have," he answered, "I have not received it yet. I am going to the Yale-Harvard football game tomorrow and I expect to be back here Monday. There may be a reply then."

GREAT BRITAIN DECLINES TO MODIFY WOOL EMBARGO

No Exceptions will be Made for Present at Least in Shipments of Wool from Australia.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Great Britain has declined to modify in favor of American manufacturers the embargo on exportation of wool from Australia and other British dominions. It had been hoped that after the needs of the British army had been satisfied, Americans might be permitted to buy the Australian surplus, giving guarantees that neither the wool nor goods made from it would reach Austria or Germany but the state department was informed today that for the present at least, no exceptions would be made.

In spite of the lack of advance assurance, officials here and interested manufacturers still are confident that there will be a modification later. They think time will demonstrate that the entire output of raw wool from the colonies is not needed by Great Britain.

Despatch to French Embassy.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Foreign office despatches to the French embassy here today mentioned the success of the French in repulsing the German attack in the Argonne, as stated in the communication of the war office and announced the destruction of German earthworks and supply trains in the vicinity of Reims.

The despatch follows:
"From the sea to Hetsas there was neither cannonading nor infantry fire from the enemy the entire day. Our artillery on the other hand succeeded in dislodging German batteries installed to the east of Nieport. The British army was subjected to scattered artillery fire for a time but the weather was exceedingly bad and it snowed for hours.

"There was no important action between Arras and Noyon. From Noyon to Rethmes there has been neither cannonading nor infantry fire from the enemy the entire day. Our artillery on the other hand succeeded in dislodging German batteries installed to the east of Nieport. The British army was subjected to scattered artillery fire for a time but the weather was exceedingly bad and it snowed for hours.

ENDORSE NON-PARTISAN PERMANENT TARIFF COMMISSION

Resolution Adopted by International Trade Conference of Mississippi Valley and Central West.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 20.—A resolution endorsing the principle of a non-partisan permanent tariff commission was adopted after a spirited debate at the closing session here today of the International Trade Conference of the Mississippi Valley and Central West. Other resolutions adopted requested the federal reserve board to authorize reserve banks in the territory embraced by the conference to join in establishing branches in Central and South America, Mexico and the West Indies, urged organization by manufacturing commercial and investment interests of a banking corporation to co-operate in promoting commerce and exchange of credits with Latin-America; and asked congress to provide adequate appropriations for development of navigation on the Mississippi river and a central system of natural water trade routes.

Speakers at the session today included E. F. Sweet, assistant secretary of the department of commerce; Robert F. Patchin, New York, secretary of the national foreign trade council and E. E. Pratt, Washington, of the bureau of domestic and foreign trade.

YALE AND HARVARD WILL MEET TODAY

CLIMAX OF EASTERN SEASON TO BE STAGED AT NEW HAVEN.

Will be Thirty-Fifth Game of Inter-Varsity Series—Wonderful Progress in Popularity of Football Made Since First Game in 1875—70,000 Will See Contest Today—Other Football News.

New Haven, Conn., November 20.—The Climax of the eastern football season will be staged here tomorrow when the teams of Yale and Harvard universities meet in the thirty-fifth game of the inter-varsity series which began in 1875. During this stretch of forty years inter-collegiate football and its attendant features have undergone remarkable evolutions. Numerous changes in the playing rules have been made and the theory and methods of attack and defense radically altered. All these variations in the game and play sink into insignificance when compared with the great transformation of football from the spectacular and spectator's standpoint.

In the early days of the contests the teams met upon the college green and fought out their annual game, ringed by a thin fringe of undergraduates and town folk. Admission charges were either nominal or entirely dispensed with and the cheering of the few hundred spectators unorganized and unimpressive. Wonderful progress in the popularity of football has been made since the initial game and tomorrow marks another epoch in the game, for the elevens of 1914 will battle in a stadium larger and more impressive than any structure ever built for college sport in this country. Onto the turfed and lime-lined arena of this stadium will trot, tomorrow afternoon, the gridiron squads of rival universities while more than 70,000 spectators cheer the players and substitutes.

The advance guard of the thousands, who will contribute fully $140,000 to the athletic associations of the two universities for the privilege of witnessing the game are already pouring into this city by train, boat and motor car. The night before gathering has taxed the capacity of the local hosteries to an extent never before experienced here and the overflow has been shunted into private dwellings as a last resort for the night. This rush is but the forerunner of the throngs that are scheduled to descend upon New Haven tomorrow. With a new stadium with a seating capacity almost twice as great as the former wooden stands at Yale Field additional thousands have taken the opportunity to witness one of the football classics of the year. More than fifty per cent of the spectators will come from points outside this city. According to the railroad management about 25,000 persons will be moved by special trains, twenty-five of which will start from New York City and fifteen from Boston in addition to the regularly scheduled service.

That the game itself, aside from the dedication features of the new Yale "Bowl" and the assembling of a record gathering of football enthusiasts, will prove an exceedingly interesting contest, is the general opinion of the coaches and experts who have followed the work of the elevens all season. Harvard is a slight favorite in the wagering, due to the showing made in the eight games played to date and the fact that Percy Haughton and his successful coaching system holds full sway at Cambridge. Yale on the other hand is just finishing the first season of a new campaign of football under the tutelage of Frank Hinkey, former captain and end at the Yale teams of 1893 and 1894.

This slight preponderance of support in favor of the Crimson is due chiefly, however, to the better showing made by Harvard in the preliminary games of the schedule. The Cambridge eleven has won all its games, with the exception of the contest with Penn, State which resulted in a tie at 13 to 13. In six of the first seven games Harvard ran up double figure scores, Michigan alone being able to hold Haughton's pupils to a single touchdown without the accompanying field goals which have marked all the other contests. Yale has also proved that it possessed a strong scoring attack but has played erratic football especially on the defense.

The opportunities are offered for a comparative score analysis in the games against Washington and Jefferson and Brown. Harvard defeated the Pennsylvania team 10 to 9 on October 19, while two weeks later the same eleven won from Yale 13 to 7. Against Brown the Blue lined up a team of regulars and substitutes in about equal proportions so that the victory of 14 to 7 carries greater weight than the Harvard substitute eleven's scoreless tie with Brown.

Whatever the relative merits of the 1914 teams the Blue has a long string of victories over the Crimson to its credit, when the series is reviewed as a whole. In the earliest days of the game when the point system of scoring was unknown, Yale gained a lead which she has held so firmly ever since. Since 1883, when touchdowns, goals and field goals were accorded a point value, Yale has won seventeen games to Harvard's six while five resulted in ties. In the total number of points scored the Ellis have a big margin over the Crimson, the totals being Yale 273; Harvard 107. The Blue elevens have shut out Crimson teams on thirteen occasions while the Harvard victories over Yale in which the Ellis were unable to score number but four. In forest in this eastern football class recent years the Cambridge teams sic that will, it is estimated, at-have developed a strength when facing the Blue quite unknown to the elevens of the nineties. In 1907 Yale ended a string of six straight victories and in the following six years won one, lost three and tied two. It was a desire to check this slump in Yale football that caused the call to go out for Hinkey. What the new coach and his system of play has done toward restoring Yale to the high gridiron plane formerly held by Blue teams will be demonstrated tomorrow.

Ready for Nebraska-Iowa Game.

Iowa City, Iowa, Nov. 20.—With warmer weather tomorrow the Hawks Eye squad and the first string freshmen will journey to the Iowa city country club for the finishing touches before the Nebraska-Iowa game. If the weather continues cold, Iowa field will be the scene of activities.

The Nebraska squad arrived in Cedar Rapids today and is utilizing Coe College field for its finishing practice.

Western Football Ends Today.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Tomorrow's football games and last year's scores:

At Madison—Illinois —, vs. Wisconsin, —.

At Iowa City—Nebraska 12, vs. Iowa, 6.

At Chicago—Minnesota 7, vs. Chicago, 13.

At LaFayette—Indiana 7, vs. Purdue, 42.

At Lawrence—Missouri 3 vs. Kansas, 9.

At Columbia—Northwestern 0, vs. Ohio State, 58.

At Des Moines—Drake 3, vs. Ames, 26.

At Oberlin—Oberlin 26, vs. Case 24.

At Beloit—Lake Forest 23, vs. Beloit, 14.

Western football so far as its chief exponents are concerned, will end its season tomorrow. Of the half dozen games of importance on the card the Illinois-Wisconsin and Nebraska-Iowa contests stand out as having bearing on championship claims, while because of the traditions surrounding them there will be widespread interest in the Chicago-Minnesota, Kansas-Missouri and Indiana-Purdue games.

In the Badgers Illinois meets the last obstacle in its path to the championship of the conference. A clean slate against both weak and strong, is the boast of the Illinois to date and on past performances they should beat Wisconsin tomorrow and earn a clear title to leading honors of the big nine. They have beaten Minnesota which trounced Wisconsin and Chicago, which played a tie game with the Badgers.

The Badgers, however, are a fighting team. Against the dashing Illinois backs they will pit a strong line and a courageous group in their second defense. It is likely Zuppke's men will be forced to cut loose some of their fanciest plays to overcome the determined resistance of which Wisconsin is capable.

Nebraska's claims for the western championship should look weak or strong according to the outcome of the Corn Huskers game with Iowa. The Iowans, while not claiming second rank among the big nine schools were surely factors in the race. They gave Chicago and Minnesota terrific battles, holding each to a seven to nothing score.

The Corn Huskers, aside from the game with South Dakota early in the season, have been uniformly successful, taking beyond question the highest honors in the Missouri valley. Of course, their game with Iowa will not settle definitely their standing but comparisons of the Missouri valley game with that of the conference so far as tomorrow's contest makes them possible should be interesting for reviewers.

With the odds on their side in nearly every point of the game, the Gophers tackle the Maroons tomorrow favorites by a slight margin. Coach Stagg will oppose the onslaughts of the Northerners with the wreck of the team that defended gallantly this season the title won last year.

Series of Trades Planned.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—A series of trades planned with the idea of strengthening the Cub infield will be made if possible by Roger Bresnahan, who today assumed his duties as manager of the Chicago Nationals. Incidentally, Bresnahan said, he hopes to reduce to 21 players the squad on the club's payroll, now numbering 34.

Rumors that Zimmerman might be traded, owing to alleged unfriendly feelings between him and the new leader were denied, Bresnahan saying he thought too much of the third baseman to let him go. No fear that Archer would desert to the Federals is felt, according to President Thomas, as Archer's contract does not contain the day clause.

WILL RETAIN FRANCHISE.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—That Kansas City will retain its franchise in the Federal League in 1915 was the announcement made here to-night by James A. Gilmore, president of the league after a conference with the directors of the local club.

CHILD'S LAXATIVE IS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Made From Fruit—Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to, the master of spectacular and diversified attack. The possibilities and advantages of one eleven as seen from certain angles are balanced by the ability of the opposing team along other lines. It is this uncertainty as to the outcome of the game added to the traditional interest in the contests.

The contest at New Haven probably will make football history. Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves sick child tomorrow.

tract more than 70,000 spectators to New Haven.

Judging from what Yale has shown in previous contests the Ellis' favorite attack is the loose-ball, open formation game, so far as the back field is concerned. If the heavy rain of Thursday penetrated through the straw covering and soaked the newly-turfed gridiron to any extent, a considerable percentage of the efficiency of this attack will be lost.

Harvard has relied during a major portion of the Autumn on an offensive campaign which while it calls for much shifting of the ball, is only a modern typification of the old mass formation attack. On a wet and slippery field this method of advancing the ball would have a decided advantage over the open running, lateral and forward-passing play.

It is, however, far from certain that either Yale or Harvard has shown its full offensive strength and play up to this time.

It is not unlikely that the blue has a line-plunging tackle-skirting attack which can be used effectively if weather conditions do not warrant the use of the rugby and basket ball play.

Badgers to Meet Illini.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20.—With odds almost 3 to 1 against them the Badgers will line up against Illinois at Camp Randall tomorrow afternoon in the final and deciding game of the conference season.

Everything appears to be in favor of Illinois, not only in the matter of victories and scores but in the possession of stars and the general work of the unbeaten team. Wisconsin had a scare at Ohio State while Illinois had a scare at Ohio State eleven in easy style.

Illinois ran away with the Gophers who last week administered to the Badgers their first defeat. It is true that in the Illinois-Omaha State game the Ohio team did not have Pickler who was practically the whole team in the Wisconsin game. Then, too, Wisconsin played poorly and has improved considerably since.

WILL TRANSMIT ALL RELIEF SUPPLIES WITHOUT CHARGE

Railroads of Mississippi Will Transmit Food and Clothing for Belgians Free.

New York, Nov. 20.—To facilitate the transportation of food and clothing for Belgian relief, all railroads of the trunk lines association covering territory east of the Mississippi and north of Norfolk, Va., will transmit such supplies without charge it was announced tonight. The commission for relief in Belgium is trying to perfect a similar arrangement with the lines west of the Mississippi. The next relief ship sailing under charter of the commission is expected to arrive on November 25th, at Philadelphia, where it will be loaded immediately with supplies from the northwestern states and from Pennsylvania. About December 1st, the Ferrona, a new boat, will be despatched from New York with a cargo of western contributions.

NEW MOVE FOR U. S. TO TAKE WIRES

Second Movement for Government Ownership Launched in Congress.

Washington, Nov. 20.—A second move toward government ownership of the telephone and telegraph lines of the country is being launched on Congress by the Post Office Dept. under the jurisdiction of which it is proposed to operate the wire service in connection with them all service.

Postmaster-General Burleson is recommending in his forthcoming report that the federal government operate the lines as an adjunct of the postal system. The success of the Parcel Post will be pointed out by the head of the Post Office Department, to prove the practicability of the proposal.

When Postmaster-General Hitchcock made a similar recommendation some years ago, it met the emphatic disapproval of President Taft. Although the president did not censure him, Hitchcock was condemned by the leading politicians of both big parties. In contrast to that reception, it is said that President Wilson will endorse the plans to be suggested by Mr. Burleson. If the matter reaches Congress with the President's O.K., a long and bitter battle is bound to ensue, and it is doubtful whether an appropriation for the purpose could be put through by the administration.

HOG CHOLERA SPREAD.

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 20.—Central Illinois farmers are forgetting the hoof and mouth disease in their haste to check the ravages of hog cholera. The last of a herd of fifty hogs owned by H. F. Roberts of Warrensburg died today. So great has been the demand for vaccine that it has been impossible to obtain the necessary amount from the state.

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

Orders were made by Judge Creighton in only two cases Friday. The day was a quiet one in the circuit court room.

On the chancery side of the docket the case of John W. Davies, et al. vs. Lewellyn Davis, et al., partition, was before the court for consideration, and the court granted the prayer of a petition for appointment of receiver. The petition was filed by the complainants in a cross-bill. Felix E. Farrell was appointed receiver under bond of $10,000.

Among the common law cases the suit of Caleb C. Cochran vs. William Nunes, assumpit, was the only one called for trial. The court was selecting the jurors who were to try the case when the parties reached an agreement and the cause was dismissed by the plaintiff.

The jury was then excused, about eleven o'clock, from further duty for this term. Monday there will be a new jury called and the court will be busy with the criminal cases on the docket. There are about twenty-one of these criminal cases on the docket for next week so the prediction for a busy week is a safe one.

Today there are a number of divorce cases to come before Judge Creighton. No jury will be needed to consider them as they are default cases.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSEPH HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take most of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do not use calomel.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "stomach" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10¢ and 25¢ per box. All drugstores.

EGG SUPPLY IN WINTER MONTHS

REQUIREMENTS OF A GOOD LAYING RATION.

Fat Hen Does Not Lay Well But Good Health Must Be Maintained—Heavier Breeds Will Eat More Than Those of Smaller Structure—Feeding Green Bone.

Animal Husbandry, University of Illinois.

Article II.

In a preceding article we discussed the nutritive value for rations for laying hens.

A good laying ration must do two things:

1. Maintain the hen in good health without causing her to get fat.

2. Supply the materials out of which the eggs are to be laid.

Poultry of all kinds consume great quantities of water. The egg contains approximately 60 per cent of water and 40 per cent of dry matter and the hen's body runs as high as 55 per cent in water content. Fowls go for a drink as soon as they are up in the morning and the last thing before going to roost at night. Water then should be supplied in abundance and particular pains should be taken to keep it fresh, as in summer especially, the water quickly becomes warm and unpalatable and needs renewing four or five times a day.

There can be no hard or fast rule laid down as to how much to feed except this: Feed all they will eat clean. The quantity depends upon breed, age, vigor, housing, range and many other factors which the ordinary man does not consider. The heavier breeds will eat more than those of smaller structure, growing birds more than mature ones, consistent layers more than poor layers, etc. The fowler must study his fowls and if he finds that they are being fed too much, he must give them less and make them exercise more. A very good way is to feed lightly in the morning and then give a good full feed from day to day.

Grain mixture should always be fed in a deep litter, so that the hens will have to scratch and exercise for all they get. The best layers being industrious, are the first to come off the roost in the morning and begin scratching in the litter, and are the last to stop scratching and go on the roost at night. The character of industriousness is so closely related to the character of prolificacy that many experienced breeders use the indication of industriousness as a guide in picking out good layers. One good guide is the shortness of the hen's toe nails which they have been worn down by scratching.

Since the introduction of the dry mash method of feeding fowls there has been a great deal of discussion in the various poultry journals both for and against dry mash. Let us analyze the two systems, the advantages of one against the disadvantages of the other:

1. Dry mash requires less labor. Sufficient dry mash can be mixed at one time to last a couple of weeks, while the ingredients of the wet mash must be mixed and moistened just before feeding to the fowls. Dry mash can be put in each hopper to last a pen of fowls two weeks, while the wet mash must be fed fresh every day.

2. The dry mash is more economical. There is less waste with dry than with wet mash, for the birds do not pick out the choice morsels and carry them off and scatter them.

3. Dry feeding is more sanitary. To keep the utensils used in wet feeding clean and sweet requires a lot of extra labor, hot water, etc. and growing chicks fed a dry mash containing plenty of bran, will be less subject to digestive diarrhea if fed a wet mash.

An ideal ration then would be as follows:

Grain.
75 pounds wheat.
50 pounds barley or oats.
25 pounds cracked corn.

Dry Mash.
25 pounds bran.
25 pounds shorts.
15 pounds meat scraps.
10 pounds soy bean meal.
5 pounds ground bone.
2.5 pounds powdered charcoal.
0.5 pounds salt.

The grain is fed in a deep litter at daylight and an hour before dark at night. The dry mash is fed in a self-feeding hopper and is kept before the fowls at all times. Where poultry do not have free range or grass yards, green feed such as alfalfa, clover, lawn clippings, cabbages, etc., is fed at noon. If green bone can be secured it should be fed in preference to meat scraps, and should be fed at noon with the green stuff. Put in a pan and give all the fowls will clean up in twenty minutes.

In summing up poultry feeding, the best advice that we can give to the man interested in fowls is that given by the little darkey to his "bone head" older brother: "Jus' use yuh head, Mose, dat is what God give it to yuh for."

HER 85TH ANNIVERSARY.

Quite a number of the friends of Mrs. Annie J. Kislisburg of 148 East State street learned that Thursday was her 85th birthday anniversary called upon her, as for their congratulations on the occasion and to wish for Mrs. Kislisburg many happy years yet in the future. All of which was duly appreciated by the good lady.

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN WETHER AND EWE LAMBS IN FEEDING LOT

Illinois Experiment Station Brings Forth Facts of Interest to the Commercial Feeder—Difference on the Whole is Slight.

By W. C. Coffey, Sheep Husbandry, University of Illinois.

Persons engaged in commercial lamb feeding have often asked whether there is any difference between wether and ewe lambs with respect to their ability to make rapid and cheap gains. They also ask whether there is any difference in ewes and wethers with respect to market quality at the end of the feeding period. In order to answer these questions the Illinois Experiment Station conducted an experiment in which wether and ewe were compared. The following tabulation shows the proportion of corn to hay which their value is determined. If a woman buys cotton or linen or china, she applies to it certain tests, such as "feel" and appearance, but in food the test is often limited to the one of appearance only. There are other and more important tests, however, to be applied to foods.

Comparison of Wether and Ewe Lambs as to Feed Consumed and Gains Made:

With respect to consumption of feed, the above table shows that the ewe lambs ate slightly less in a given period than the wethers but the difference was too small to be of significance. It should be noted what is meant by the chemical test that in the one case lot 1 wethers and lot 5 ewes, were practically

SIMPLE HOME TESTS FOR FOOD PRODUCTS

NUTRITIVE VALUES MAY BE DETERMINED BY EVERY HOUSEWIFE.

Dr. Hutchison Enumerates Four Means of Determining True Worth of Food—Cost Must Be Considered—Chemical, Physical, Physiological and Economic Tests.

By Isabel Bevier, Household Science Department, University of Illinois.

equal in extent of gains but in the other case, lot 2 wethers and lot 6 ewes, there was a difference of more than 2 pounds per head in favor of the wethers. This was enough difference to be of significance, for since the consumption of feed was almost the same, it is obvious that the wethers made the cheaper gains.

As to market quality and finish, it was generally agreed among commercial men and buyers who saw the lambs that the ewes were slightly superior to the wethers. They were slightly more refined in general quality and also more plump and rounded in outline. Had they sold in car load lots, it is thought that they would have brought slightly more per hundred weight than the wethers because they looked as though they would return a higher percentage of carcass to live weight.

This opinion was substantiated by

CITY PRISON LODGERS WILL HAVE BREAKFAST RATIONS

Coffee and Bread Have Been Provided by Messrs. Jenkinson & Haxby—Cities Have Established Custom of Caring for the Travellers in a Temporary Way.

The question of furnishing breakfast for homeless men who are given lodging at the city prison was solved temporarily at least yesterday when Mayor Davis and Chief of Police Davis secured a donation of five pounds or more of coffee from Messrs. Jenkinson & Haxby, and accepted the offer of the bakery firm to furnish bread every day until further notice without cost. An abandoned street car which has been fixed up as a kitchen for use by members of the fire department has a place on the city lot, and the plan is to allow the travellers to cook their own breakfast in this car.

As previously mentioned, from twenty-five to thirty men are nightly housed in the city prison. Some occupy the floor in the vacant cells or the space along the corridors, and others find sleeping accommodations on the cages above the cells. Altogether there is space for about thirty men, and they find warm quarters there, if the beds are not particularly soft. While they are not prisoners, they are locked in for the night, and now each morning two or three will be released earlier than their companions and directed to go to the car and prepare the coffee and bread for the whole company. The people at the city hall are hoping that somebody will come forward with enough money to buy sugar and possibly butter, ad also to replenish the supply of coffee when the present donation has been used up.

It is the practice in cities all over the country to provide lodgings for men out of employment who pass through the city. Bloomington, Springfield and some other Illinois cities give all such men a full morning meal and the expense is looked upon as necessary and also dictated by charity and humanity.

Chief Davis says that the rule is to give a man one night's lodging and while in rare instances a man is allowed to stay for two nights the rule is generally observed. The men who are passing through Jacksonville now are for the most part railroad laborers who are out of employment for the winter season, most of them are on their way to Chicago. While there is a great army of unemployed in that city, the facilities are said to be better there than in almost any other metropolis of the country for providing living quarters for the homeless and unemployed. There are a great many places in Chicago where a man can secure a bed or bunk for five or ten cents and a bowl of soup and something else to eat for about the same expenditure. In many of these places, too, provision is made whereby enough employment is given to a man to permit of his earning the amount required for the bed and meal.

In the average down state city where the custom prevails of caring for the travelers temporarily, it is figured that while there is some expense connected with it, that in reality it is much better for the city to have this expenditure than to turn loose a large number of men in a community unfed. They will naturally at once begin a campaign of begging, and in some instances the unappeased appetite leads to crime. Messrs. Jenkinson & Haxby have certainly set a good example in making the morning rations possible and no doubt the fund will be augmented by gifts from others.

BEGINNING OF
LOCAL FOOTBALL

GAME STARTED HERE TWENTY-NINE YEARS AGO.

First Contest of Rugby Football Took Place at State School for Deaf—Dr. Philip J. Hasenstab Father of Game.

Thanksgiving day, 1885, marked an epoch in athletic history as far as Jacksonville, if not the state of Illinois, is concerned. On the morning of that day, twenty-nine years ago, the first game of rugby football was played in this city. The contest took place upon the play grounds of the Illinois School for the Deaf. These grounds were immediately across West State street from the institution, where Dr. Black's residence now stands. The honor of being sponsor for the game belongs to Dr. Philip J. Hasenstab, now a resident of Chicago, at that time a supervisor at the I. S. D. Dr. Hasenstab graduated at Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C., in June 1885, and in the fall of that year was brought here by Dr. P. G. Gillett.

Dr. Hasenstab had been quarter back on the Gallaudet eleven and was a high class player. He organized two teams among the older boys at the I. S. D. and also made an effort to interest the students at Illinois college in what was then a new game. The effort failed as far as Illinois was concerned, but the deaf boys took to the game with enthusiasm and under Dr. Hasenstab's coaching soon developed familiarity with the style of play that was something entirely new to everybody hereabouts. Chicago University had not been founded at that time, or at least was in obscurity, while the state university is not believed to have had a team at that time. So it would seem that Jacksonville is a real pioneer in the regulation halves with a line up similar to those of the present day. The writer was present, but had no idea what it was all about. However he retains a good recollection of the game and can say that it was full of excitement and resulted in a victory for the "Red" team over the "Blues." He cannot remember what the score was. No record was ever printed of this game, otherwise it would be worth while reproducing the line up as a matter of historical interest. The fact is well established however that the first Rugby game in Jacksonville was played as above set forth and Dr. P. J. Hasenstab must be called the father of the sport in this city if not in the state. The I. S. D. has played the game more or less ever since and at times has been quite formidable. The coaches have been in addition to Mr. Hasenstab, W. L. Tilton (Gallaudet); F. R. Wheeler (Brown); W. A. Caldwell (Cornell); W. W. Wambold (Franklin and Marshall); R. M. Halstead; R. A. P. Holderoy, (Illinois U.).

SEPTMBR MORN.

At last "September Morn" has been dramatized. It was bound to occur at sometime and the transforming of Paul Chabas' painting into three acts of girls, music and mirth has happened. Arthur Gillespie did it. He wrote the play: Frank Tannehill, Jr., staged it; Virgil Bennett taught "September Morn" how to dance but the arch-conspirator is Leo Greenwood, the original joy germ. He is the star of the big new musical comedy along with Ollie Carew, Barbara Douglas and other bright comedians.

One may imagine every musical play they have seen—then, combining the lot and let it simmer until it condenses, leaving "September Morn" a genuine delight with its happy players and Tango Dancing Chorus of fifty. "September Morn" carries the audience upon tour through funland with a dash and a whirl of real pleasure.

"September Morn" comes with a LaSalle Opera House, Chicago reputation where it recently had a big run. At Grand Opera House for one night, Monday, Nov. 23rd.

BRANCH LIBRARY BEGUN.
 The first Jacksonville public branch library, was established Friday afternoon at the grocery store of D. L. Harding, corner of South Clay and East Morton avenues, with Miss Lydia M. Barrette, public librarian, in charge. Miss Golda Ausbury will hereafter be at the branch at the time when books may be withdrawn, Fridays from 4 until 8 o'clock in the evening. Cards were issued to ten persons who have not heretofore belonged to the public library.

COMMITTEE PLANS BIG SALE OF RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS

Distribution Will Begin Day After Thanksgiving and Canvass Will be Made of Entire County—Funds Remain at Home.

A larger sale of Christmas seals this year than ever before to provide funds for the open air school and anti-tuberculosis work in Morgan county, is planned by the members of the Red Cross committee who met and organized Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the basement of the Ayers Bank building. The seals will be placed on sale next Friday, the day after Thanksgiving and plans will be ready for a thorough canvass of the county as well as the city of Jacksonville. Miss Annie Hinrichsen will head the Red Cross committee and she with Miss Katherine Olmsted, will have charge of the sale of seals. All the committee chairmen have not yet been selected but the complete organization will be announced within a few days.

Many clubs and societies will co-operate in the good work and a special day will be set aside to emphasize this mode of manifesting the Christmas spirit. With the exception of a nominal sum to cover cost of stamps the funds received remain at home and will go to aid in Jacksonville anti-tuberculosis work, help pay the salary of the public health nurse and assist the open air school.

The committee chairmen so far selected follow:

City schools—Mrs. Albyn L. Adams.

Country schools and rural districts—Miss Florence Ward.

Woman's clubs—Mrs. W. S. Badger.

Woman's college—Miss Mary Johnston.

State Institutions—Mrs. E. J. Stricker.

Red Cross Day—Mrs. W. B. Misner.

Booster club and lodges—Paul B. Fritchey.

Clerical committee—Miss Alice Wadsworth.

Booths—Miss Grace Carter.

ATTENDS HIGHWAY MEETING.

F. J. Heinal was in Springfield Friday to attend a meeting of the Illinois Division of the Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean Highway. The meeting which was well attended was held for the purpose of arranging to mark the road from Hannibal to Terre Haute. The arrangements were practically completed and the work will be speedily undertaken. The marks will be a red ten inch band above a white band of the same width. The highway is now marked for considerable distance and it is the expectation that before 1915 is half over that the marking will have been done for the entire length.

Underwear in winter weights for boys, youths and men in a variety of prices at Knoles'.

DEMAND FOR MITTS STRONG.

That there must be a pretty good corn crop in Morgan county is evidenced by the fact that one merchant, T. M. Tomlinson has sold 450 dozen shucking mitts. Farmers now buy these mitts by the dozen and find them more satisfactory than the old heavy gloves.

Men's Gloves to suit the weather and wearer are sold by Knoles'.
